Mason & Hamlin Co.,

Gentlemen:—The piano has had a seventful career in some ways as any in Japan, I suppose. The steamer it came on was captured and held some weeks by the Chinese. On arriving late in Japan it had to be transported over sundry railroads, and at last carted on a hand-cart 70 miles over two high mountain ranges by terribly bad roads. Since then it has passed a cold winter and hot summer, both terribly damp. In spite of that, and the fact that it has not been tuned since leaving your warerooms, it retains its pitch and tone delightfully.
Yours very truly,

Montevideo, 27th.

The official version of the result of yesterday interview between President Borda, Brian, Lacaze Barreto, Medici and Julio de Herrera regarding the monstrous Western Railway "embrollo," is as follows: Juan B. Medici to received six hundred thousand pounds sterling in "Unified Debt," and all the railway materials belonging to the Uruguay Company, Ltd. He binding himself to construct from two hundred and twenty to forty kilometres of road and to settle all the pending claims of Cagmari and Barreto. The above arrangement being subject to the following additional conditions:—

1st. Juan B. Medici to pay Barreto immediately twelve thousand pounds Stg.

2nd Medici to pay Barreto three hundred and fifty pounds for every kilometre he constructs, one hundred pounds in gold, Condors excluded, and two hundred and fifty pounds in debenture-bonds to be issued in due course as required. Now this being true, Barreto will receive thirty four thousand pounds in gold and fifty thousand pounds in debentures: that is, provididg Juan B. Medici finds the money and builds the two hundred and twenty kilometres of road which no one here believes he will ever do. Mr. Gaston Dubord, founder of the National Bank of Chili, another claimant of the Western Railway concession, presents to H. E. Borda to-day a six columns protest in El Siglo, and solicits the retention of all monies and the suspension of all proceedings in connection with the Medici-Barretto departure, until his case now before the Supreme Court has been decided—a pretty kettle of fish and only the beginning of the end! This absurb and disreputable concession if carried out on the lines now proposed will have yielded the triumverate Caymari, Barretto and Herrera about a hundred and twenty thousand pounds!!!

A grand banquet will be given to-morrow evening at the Hotel in the Pocitos by Mr. German Coladon.

THE CUBAN REVOLUTION.

Belligerent Rights and United States Neutrality.

The Fight at Santa Clara.

Weyler goes in for shooting.

Washington, 27th—The Senate passed the following motion:—

(1) So long as the state of war continues in Cuba, the United States shall remain neutral, granting belligerent rights to the two contending parties:

(2) That President Cleveland offer his friendly offices to Spain with a view to the recognition of Cuban independence.

This motion will in all probability be accepted by the Chamber of Representatives.

New York, 27th—During the attack on Santa Clara, the Rebels—according to official Spanish advices, forced their way into the centre of the town before the Spaniards could drive them off. The attack, they admit, was a well planned one.

Latest official Spanish advices state that the Spaniards in Santa Clara took the rebel hospital, where there were 150 wounded rebels. General Weyler gave orders that special attention should be given to the wounded.

It is reported that the rebels have sustained another defeat. A thousand men under Lacret were completely routed by the Spaniards. Rebel losses 13 killed and 40 wounded: Spanish losses 2 wounded.

General Weyler has resumed his policy of shooting his prisoners. Yesterday two prisoners were tried and shot at the Morro.

Mr. Reldau, a leading Cuban resident, spoke as follows to the Editor of the Central News; Not only will our belligerency be recognized, but it is probable the U. States will intervene, in view of the cruelty displayed by General Weyler, in whose word one can no longer have any confidence. With a recognition of our belligerent rights, we will hurl our corsairs on the Spanish merchant vessels. Our position is becoming stronger every day. We have now all the armament we require, and the operations of Maceo, Lacret, Gomez and Sanchez shew that they no longer conceal themselves. The fact that the rebels pushed their way to the centre of Santa Clara, which is a town of 20,000 inhabitants, shews that they are capable of undertaking military operations of the greatest importance.

New York, 27th—Official telegrams state that 300 rebels were defeated near San Felipe, province of Havannah. The rebels lost 21 killed and 50 wounded. The Spaniards had not even a man wounded. Near Paso Real the Spaniards seized two rebel encampments, after a fight in which 50 rebels were killed. The Spaniards state that they seized $200,000 worth of armament.

Madrid, 27th—The news of the landing of the Bermuda cargo of armament is officially confirmed.

Washington, 27th—The Chamber of Representatives have voted by a sweeping majority the credits demanded by the Government for the construction of 4 powerful ironclads and 15 torpedo-boats for high seas. The papers applaud this move.

Havannah, 27th—The rebels continue to suffer defeats. Yesterday Colonel Segura routed a conciderable body of rebels near Siguana.

United Kingdom

Lord Rosebury in a speech delivered at Huddersfield has condemned in strong terms the Bongola expedition. His outspoken language has created somewhat of a sensation.

The French and Russian members of the Egyptian Debt commission at the meeting held recently, not only protested against the expenditure of half a million pounds sterling in the Soudan expedition, but also criticised in adverse terms the intentions which they asserted were harboured by England.

France

Paris, 27th—The Deputies passed to-day by a bare majority of 9 votes the Doumer income-tax Bill.

A telegram from Pekin announces that the Emperor Tsai-Tien, yielding to the request formulated by the diplomatic corps, has signed a decree creating an International postal service, to be managed by the Director General of Customs. It is hoped that this concession may be the precursor of many similar favours.

Germany

Berlin, 27th—The Minister of State will shortly lay before the Landtag of Prussia a Bill dealing with the guarantees granted to the railways of that Kingdom.

Belgium

Brussels, 27th—The subscriptions to the Belgian expedition to the South Pole already amount to 120,000 francs.

Portugal

Lisbon, 27th—The King granted to-day a length audience to Senhor José Luciano de Castro leader of the party of progress.

Russia

St. Petersburg, 27th—Immigration into Siberia has increased considerably of late, owing to the great advantages offered by the Government to families settling there.

The Russian Red Cross Society has definitely resolved to send to Abyssinia an important medical mission to work in the field-hospitals of King Menelik's army. General Schwendon is to be in command of the expedition which will take very large stores of medicine, lint, etc.

Spain

Madrid, 27th—Several cases of typhus fever have occurred amongst the troops in garrison at Valencia. Measures have been adopted to prevent the disease spreading to the population.

Italy

Rome, 27th—The unemployed working men at Sassari on Sardinia island have held a meeting to ask for work, and the authorities have promised to undertake public works that will give employment to most of them.

It is officially confirmed that the documents referring to the surrender of Makallé have disappeared from the war-office.

The Prime Minister declared to-day in the Senate that every effort would be made to recover them. The Senate has adjourned its sittings indefinitely.

A violent newspaper-warfare is being carried on in connection with the abstraction of the official documents relating to the African campaign from the war and foreign-offices and several duels are spoken of.

Chile.

The Coming Earthquake.

Mr. Alvear's Health.

Valparaiso, 27th—The panic of the predicted earthquake is already well visible. Thousands of families have left the town for the camp, where nothing else is seen but tents and hastily-erected huts. Mr. Diego de Alvear is still in a critical condition, but the doctors have great hopes of saving him.

Brazil

Commercial Treaty between Argentina and Brazil.

The Military Situation.

Rio Janeiro, 27.—Dr. Carlos de Carvalho, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has stated to a reporter of the Jornal do Brazil that all his sympathies lay with the Argentine Republic, and that all his efforts tend to a commercial treaty with that country. He states further, that in his interview with the Argentine Minister Mr. Portela, nothing has been discussed in this line. The leading military men oppose the move made by the Military Club. The ill-feeling is all on account of Colonel Torres Homen. The favorite of the day is Dr. Prudente de Moraes. The public health is improving.

Exchange on London is at 8¾ and 8 13/16.

Argentine Republic

Proposed Parana Canal.

Rosario, 27th—All the newspapers have taken up the question of the exorbitant freights asked by the Andine Railway.

The Orden proposes that an arrangement should be made between Uruguay and Argentina about the proposed Parana canal.

Wheat was much firmer this morning: prices at 7.10. Linseed firmes.

Commercial Telegrams.

London, 27th—Notwithstanding the fall in the gold premium, Argentine stocks were a little lower to-day. The quotations were as follows:—

National Cedulas	B	29¾
" "	C	26¾
" "	E	28¾
" "	T	25¾
Provincial "	P	6¾
Municipal Loan		28
Funding "		81¾
International Loan		92.24

Owing to the Egyptian question all foreign stocks have fallen.

Antwerp, 27th—A slight reaction has occurred in combed wool type B. Sales were effected at 4.27½ francs "a terme."

Operations in wheat very slack; the current prices are at 14¼ for wheat and 19¼ francs for linseed.

London, 27th—Linseed is selling here at 59 and 6 pence. A cargo of wheat was sold to-day at 24 and 3 pence, but sellers hold out for 25 shillings.

ROSARIO FOR EVER!

FIRST SHIPMENT OF CATTLE TO RIO.

There is joy in the Chicago of the Plate, and another red-letter day is marked in the annals of that industrious and prosperous city. For the first time since the discovery of America, or for that matter since the beginning of the world, a cargo of live cattle has been shipped from Rosario for Rio Janeiro. Our friends the Rosarinos are right in attaching the utmost importance to what is seemingly an insignificant event, which is another proof of the independent and enterprising spirit of that city. Our friend, the classical broker, to whose erudition we have been so often indebted for many an apt quotation, had in speaking of the relative positions of Rosario and Buenos Ayres, compared the Chicago of the Plate to Mantua, which, according to the bard, was too near Cremona to flourish. But we see that Rosario is not too near B Ayres to thrive, and proportionately its progress has been even more rapid than that of the Puerto de la Santisima Trinidad, as the capital was piously designated in the days of old.

Rosario has had to struggle against one terrible enemy: not revolutions nor financial crisis, but the National Government, whose indifference, we had almost said apathy, has caused that city to lose millions of money, and may yet stifle its vitality. For the last fifteen years the merchants of Rosario have been petitioning the Government to dredge the Martin Garcia (Hell) Channel, but the Government has done nothing, and from the "azotea" of the Red House President Uriburu might any day see an army of vessels riding idly at anchor at the entrance of that channel, waiting for water. Every hour's delay is a pecuniary loss. The sand banks there are growing, like everything else in the Plate; and only the other day a British steamer coming down from Rosario with a full cargo ran into a bank in spite of the pilot on board. And there she lay for days. Finally the captain decided that a telegram should be sent to B. Ayres to Mihanovich, requesting that King of Tugs to send a few tenders to remove part of the cargo. The first mate and a sailor got into a boat, landed at Martin Garcia and sent the telegram, but they were put in quarantine, and may be there yet for all we know. And thus trade is hampered in every way; but the enterprise and energy of Rosario soar above every difficulty. In spite of growing banks—and ruined ones—in spite of Government indifference, in spite of duties and taxes and abuses and revolutions—Rosario pushes forward, and her latest triumph is the shipment of 895 steers and 400 wethers on board the Texo for Rio, and this triumph gives her another opportunity of shewing her independence of B. Ayres. Mr. Ernesto Braudt is the gentleman wha forwarded the shipment.

UNEASY EUROPE.

Affairs in Europe are becoming daily more complicated, in spite of Lord Salisbury's visit to Nice, and the news from Africa contains the alarming announcement of another rising of the Matabeles. The decision of the International Committee to issue an order on the Egyptian Treasury for half a million sterling to defray the cost of the Dongola Expedition has caused a storm in Paris. According to one telegram, the Government was thinking of recalling Baron de Courcel and closing up the Embassy in London, which would indeed, be a most dangerous move. In the meantime the Radical Cabinet has scored another victory in pushing the Revenue tax through the Deputies, and Mons. Lockroy—Minister of Marine—assuming the mantle of a pontiff, has addressed a kind of pastoral letter to the officers of the navy, leaving them the option to fast or not on Good Friday—a queer kettle of fish this French situation. But so far the most serious note has been struck by the Council of French holders of Egyptian bonds. These gentlemen have decided to bring before the Courts the decision of the International Committee, and it is argued that the money cannot be touched until the case be decided.

It is significant that the rumor of the withdrawal of Baron Courcel, the French Ambassador in London, has been started by the London press. Our "Tocayo" in that city fathers the rumor, which must cause quite a sensation on the other side of the Channel.

The London Times says that South Africa is ablaze, that the Orange Free State and the Transvaal have formed a defensive and offensive alliance, and that the inhabitants are rapidly arming, and that the services of Germans have been secured. We hear nothing more of the Expedition fitted up at Suez for the Chartered Company. To this must be added the news from Matabeleland, where the natives have risen and massacred numbers of white settlers.

Russia is not idle, and it appears tolerably certain that she has succeeded in hooking Port Arthur by means of a treaty with China.

Prince Ferdinand has paid a tributary visit to the Sultan, and thus relations between Bulgaria and the Porte have been resumed. As regards the relations between Spain and the United States, they are more strained than ever, in consequence of the decision of the mixed Parliamentary Committee in Washington to propose the recognition of Cuban belligerency. At the same time, it is known that the United States closes its eyes to the shipments of armament to Cuba, in spite of the loud protestations of the Spanish Minister in Washington.

The Italian press—particularly the clerical section—are very much opposed to the Italo-British Alliance. They think that Great Britain makes considerably by the transaction.

Even the name of little Portugal, whose jovial King promised our junior Editor to visit the Plate, is becoming mixed up in these European complications, and a telegram states that England has bought up Delagoa Bay. This, however, is very much to be doubted, for this Delagoa Bay possession keeps the Portuguese markets going.

The many friends of the Rev. Hawksley Westall will be glad to learn that he has accepted a parish in the suburbs of London, and is happily and advantageously situated.

THE PORTUGAL'S MAILS.

London March 5th.

Discussion of the Working Men's Dwellings Bill—which would authorize local authorities to advance a maximum sum of £150 to a workman to enable him to build a house for his own occupation, the workman to find a quarter of the sum to be spent, and provide the site—extended over the whole of yesterday's sitting of the House of Commons. To Sir Alfred Hickman's motion for second reading, Sir Charles Dilke moved an amendment in favour of vesting the freehold of such houses in public bodies instead of in the individual. This was negatived by a large majority, and the closure having been applied, the second reading was carried. An attempt to refer the Bill to a select Committee was unsuccessful.

Fuller accounts have now been received of the disaster to the Italians arms at Adowa. The fighting on the side of the Shoans was of the most determined character, they at one point, forcing their way into the midst of the Italian ranks and firing point blank at the officers. The total of General Baratieri's losses is not given in the official despatches received in Rome, but it is stated that over 200 officers alone are missing. General Galliano, the defender of the Makallé Fort, was among the killed. Yesterday, the Italian Cabinet, after long discussion, decided to announce their resignation to the Chamber to-day. Our Correspondent says that the charge upon which General Baratieri will be tried by court-martial is based on a statement in his despatch to the effect that he quitted the field while fighting was still going on, and before he had ascertained the fate of the columns under Generals Arimondi and Dabormida.

Lord Rosebery was present at a dinner held last night at the Whitehall Rooms with the object of bringing together a number of gentlemen interested in South Australia. Responding to the toast of the British Empire, proposed by Lord Selborne, the Earl of Rosebery said that the unity of the Empire had never been so much an article of faith as now, though he did not think the mechanical union was nearer than it was ten years ago. Comparing the British and Russian Empires, he described the British as a happy common-wealth of nations which might well be the envy of the world, and he trusted that all men in it would be resolved to maintain it as long as life lasted. Cardinal Vaughan and the Lord Chief Justice of England were among the other speakers.

It was announced at the meeting of the Council of the Royal Agricultural Society yesterday that the Duke of York had consented to be nominated for the presidency of the Society next year at Manchester. The Duke was present and made a brief speech.

The Lord Mayor, the Lady Mayoress, the Sheriffs, and many other ladies and gentlemen were present at the inauguration of the electric light in Islington yesterday. The installation has cost over £80,000.

A commodious public library, erected by the Commissioners of the district of whom Mr. J. Forbes Robertson is chairman, was opened by the Lord Mayor in High Holborn yesterday.

The match between Lord Hawke's team and an Eleven representative of South Africa was concluded at Johannesburg yesterday. The result was the victory of the Englishmen by an innings and 197 runs, the scores being: Lord Hawke's team, 482; South Africa, 151 and 134.

At Lingfield Park yesterday the Groombridge Steeplechase was secured by Rip Van Winkle, the Greenhurst Steeplechase by Bridesmaid, the Southern Handicap Steeplechase by Gratis, the Stayers' Handicap Hurdle Race by Joe Miller, Overnight Hurdle Race by Stoughton, and the March Handicap Hurdle Race by Calaisand. At Doncaster Clansman II. won the National Hunt Flat Race, Frontier the Scarborough Steeplechase, Dowie Den the Corporation Handicap Hurdle Race, and Balzac the Selling Steeplechase.

In the Queen's Bench Division yesterday, the hearing of the case of Christie v. Fox and others, concerning the promotion and formation of the Water-Gas Syndicate (Limited) was brought to a termination. Counsel for the plaintiff withdrew the allegations that the prospectus was false and fraudulent in stating that the patents had a commercial value. Sir Edward Clarke, Mr. Asquith, and Mr. Greene having addressed the Court on behalf of their clients, the jury, under the direction of the Lord Chief Justice, returned a verdict for the defendants.

The case for the prosecution of the men charged with fraud in connection with the World's Great Marriage Association was concluded before the Recorder at the Central Criminal Court yesterday and the defence entered upon. Witnesses were to have been called to speak of the utility of the Association, but the judge ruled that only the specific charges of fraud brought forward by the Crown could be dealt with at the Court. Counsel for the defence accordingly called no one, but addressed the jury for their respective clients. They had not finished when the Court adjourned.

The stock markets yesterday showed a better tendency, and a decided recovery took place in foreign Government and American railroad securities, but business was still on a small scale. Consols were unchanged, at 109¾. The Bank received £5,000 gold on balance, the receipts for the week being £53,000. Silver improved to 31 ⅝d. per ounce.

A REAL IRISH OPERA

"SHAMUS O'BRIEN" AT THE OPERA COMIQUE.

Professor Villiers Stanford's new opera performed last night at the Opera Comique, occupies as distinctive a position among modern musical works in general as it does among its composer's productions in particular. The theme is Irish; in his treatment of Sheridan Le Fanu's well-known poem Mr. George H. Jessop evinces keen appreciation of Hibernian humour; and the score contains scarcely a phrase that is not characteristic of the nationality of the eminent composer. The most familiar essay of a similar kind was that of the adaptation in 1862 to operatic purposes of Boucicault's "The Colleen Bawn;" but although he had been resident in Great Britain many years, Sir Julius Benedict, in his charming setting of the story, failed to illustrate to sufficient extent either the rollicking fun or tender sentiment of genuine Irish music. It required something more than the interpolation of "The Cruiskeen Lawn" to make "The Lily of Killarney" redolent of "The Green Isle." "Shamus O'Brien" has not been viewed through Anglo-German spectacles. The brave and generous young rebel, hurted by British soldiers, has been taken in hand by a composer who, understanding his countrymen and being proud of their gift of song, has set forth the capture and escape of his hero with a simple fervour and lightness of touch as welcome as it is remarkable, considering the severity of Professor Stanford's customary method. The music of this opera is throughout so bright and spontaneous as to convey the impression that it was a holiday task, a respite from the academical that was thoroughly enjoyed by the composer. A healthful gaiety, freshness, and heartiness pervades the work, demonstrating that the story was not only acceptable to Professor Stanford, but that he was in the best of spirits while setting it to music. For anything from his pen so free, constructed on such popular lines, and possessing within its limits such an amount of "go" and swing, we must revert to his ballad for chorus and orchestra, "The Revenge," first heard at the Leeds Festival in 1886. Melody—mostly joyous—abounds; but there is nothing in the opera that savours of the commonplace. The orchestration is tasteful and refined, whilst sufficiently expressive in the more stirring passages of the dramatic action, but mindful of the nature of the theme, the composer has avoided elaboration in the instrumental department.

LETTERS FROM THE QUEQUEN.

Balneario Quequen,
March 24th, 1896.

For the last week this remote but delightful bathing resort has been blessed with the most balmy summer weather, and one reads with wonder in the STANDARDS that are occasionally despatched to this quiet nook, that winter has already swept over Buenos Aires, though you are several degrees nearer to the Capricorn. To-day, for the first time, we are experiencing a raging south wind that lashes the sea under our windows into foam and thunder, yet the air is not cold, the temperature is mild and the water is warm. If winter and rain have fastened on Buenos Ayres, summer may be regained on these picturesque shores during Holy Week and well into the middle of April.

Our little circle has been reduced. Don Manuel Guerrico and family left yesterday for the capital. His villa is the prettiest in Quequen. Built on the brow of the hill, the house overlooks a pretty landscape of river and valley. From the windows the view stretches over the ocean, embraces the Quequen bar, and is lost in the distant South where the mainland juts out boldly into the Atlantic, and is known on the chart as Punta Negra. The Hotel Balneario, from where I write, has, from the visitor's standpoint, a more favorable and attractive position, as it is built on the sea, and the waves beat up to within a few yards of the building: the view is also extensive, as it embraces the coast to the right and the left; on the latter you can catch sight of the two Necochea bathing hotels, known as the Perla del Oceano and Diaz-Velez, both nestling between sand-hills, graced by a few straggling bathing boxes on the beach.

I visited the Necochea bathing resorts, and extended the exploration to the little village, including the Liverpool Hotel. For comfort, surroundings and those first impressions that develop in the hasty observation of a visitor we cannot disguise a conviction that the Balneario Quequen is superior.

The Quequen circle seldom cross the river to visit Necochea, as the hamlet affords few attractions to the casual visitor. The Plaza, which is a barren waste, reminded me of that Indian Settlement or "biscachera", Pringles, on the beautious banks of the Rio Negro, before it was promoted to the rank of "pueblo". Necochea is like an old garment, patched up everywhere, yet full of rents—it gives one the disagreeable impression of untidiness, squalid poverty, and revolting abandonment—no compliment certainly to its municipal authorities and residents who cater for the custom of fashionable or demi-fashionable Porteños to fill their hotels and bathing boxes.

All this may sound harsh, gentle reader; but they are first impressions and are given "calamo currente" for what they may be worth; but who derides them? If you come to this delightful, distant quarters, and indulge in comparisons, odious though they be, they will confirm, no doubt, these cursory notes.

Perhaps in the neighbourhood of Aribi-Alagi or Timbuctoo you may stumble across settlements like Necochea where two thirds of the hovels outside the blocks round the Plaza are untenanted and going to pieces. I call them hovels, but they were never inhabited: they were built to secure sites, and there they stand in their ugly nudity of crumbling bricks and rottening rafters, spreading an impression of decay and blasted speculation. In the African mud mound you may find something picturesque—but in the Necochea hovel nothing beyond the nauseating basura-box of a hot, steaming summer morning.

Let it not be inferred that I disparage Necochea to sing the praises of Quequen, for the latter, as I stated before, consists only of this Hotel Balneario and the villas of Don Manuel Guerrico, Don Julio Puyrredon, Don Carlos Wright, Luro and a few others, a straggling settlement that cannot aspire to the classification of a village and cannot evoke the criticism that Necochea draws forth owing to its abandoned condition. Quequen in the course of time may develop into a fashionable villegiatura in which the present charming family life of "intimes," so to say, will vanish and make place for all the dross and drollery of a much frequented and thoroughly public watering place: its principal charm would, in our opinion, then be severed from its beautiful beach, to make room for the footprints of the crowd and the advent of lucre, fashion dissipation and gambling. We are still in Arcadia here, although not ten squares away, the Necochea hotels make a faint attempt at a Mar del Plata dash and flash that is neither one thing nor the other, but may eventually turn out something.

As these lines are penned the families of Don Julio Puyrredon, Lynch, Oro, Dr. Chartel, etc. are dipping in the sea. We have nightly concerts. Miss Lynch sings like a diva from La Scala, accompanied by Miss Elena de Oro, granddaughter of the never-to-be-forgotten Domingo de Oro, who was buried for a week under the ruins of Mendoza about 35 years ago, and whose vicissitudes afford many a page of pleasant and instructive reading in the writings of Sarmiento.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO,

INCIDENT IN A BANK.

HIGH WORDS, CONDORS AND REVOLVERS.

A subscriber sends us the following:—

A leading Bank was yesterday the scene of an incident in which the police had to intervene. A gentleman cashed a cheque and was paid in Chilian condors. He then went to the receiving teller to deposit part of the money, but the clerk refused to accept the condors. The gentleman protested and censured the conduct of the Bank which gave out condors but refused to receive them.

He then went to speak to the manager, and high words were exchanged, thus raising an alarm in the whole establishment. The manager stated that his clerk had acted in accordance with the Bank's instructions. This statement surprised the customer to such an extent that he could not restrain his feelings, and it is even said that a revolver was whipped out, and here the police luckily stepped in.

The wind-up was that the client had to keep the condors, as the Bank refused to give back the cheque. The case is to be brought before the Courts. We believe similar difficulties occur in the other banks.

MONTEVIDEO.

ODDS AND ENDS FROM STAND-BY O'GORMAN.

March 25.

The passions inspired by popular dramatic and operatic artists amongst the feebler-minded of the fair sex are well known. As an instance, I may cite the stacks of "billets doux" received by the De Reszké brothers and by the late Henry J. Montague, which, to their credit be it said, they always burned unread. This glamour of the stage is not confined to the human race alone. Frank Brown had a performing poodle in Montevideo that electrified the public by its cleverness and daring jumps through blazing hoops. All the fair canines of the barrio sighed for him, amongst them a pure bred English fox terrier, a canine Lady Clara Vere de Vere. The result, or rather one of the results, of this passion was Pippo, a most noteworthy dog. I have already related to you how one evening, tired of waiting for me at the door of the English Club, he went over to Charpentier's, dined, passed the evening drinking champagne with his friends, supped, and then skipped out wagging his tail and saying "charge it to my patron", and staggered home to scratch at my window at 2 a.m. Early in life he was called by the name of "Honest John" on account of certain transactions in butter. He was a wily dog, and made to himself friends of the Mammon of unrighteousness. By his winning ways he contrived to become the intimate friend of the butcher, the tambero, the butter-man, the cheeseman, "et hoc genus omne". He never failed to accompany the cook to market and visit all these friends. He was particularly intimate with the proprietor of a restaurant on the next corner, where a certain old Frenchman was a boarder. Daily the table was laid for the Frenchman with a fresh pat of butter, and daily he cried "Garçon, apportez-moi donc du beurre." "But I gave you butter" replied the waiter. In reply the Frenchman shewed the butter dish beautifully clean. After a week of this the Frenchman arrived early one day and discovered Master Pippo seated in his chair busily engaged in cleaning his butter dish in the manner he had so often had occasion to admire. At home, a friend sent me a pound of beautiful butter from his estancia and it was put on the breakfast table, Pippo lying under the table waiting for breakfast. Ten minutes later I came to breakfast. Pippo was still there. So was the butter, but Pippo was on the outside. Such are the transactions which gained him the soubriquet of "Honest John." We have here in Uruguay another Honest John, this one a biped very highly placed. Though only two years in office and with the modest salary which becomes little Uruguay, an unbridled press pretends that he has been able to make large purchases of real estate in town and country. Yesterday's Tribuna states that he has recently bought a chacra in Durazno. It is also stated that he is already beginning to occupy himself with the choice of a candidate for the next presidency, the present Minister of Finance, Vidiella, being his choice. As Sr. Vidiella has recently caused to be published a statement of his private affairs tending to show that he has made nothing out of his post as Minister, it would appear that no better honest John could be found to replace the present dynasty. It will be interesting to see what the English Financial organs say of all this. The establishment of the new state bank and the settlement of the Western Railway imbroglio will be promptly arranged "mañana", freely translated, in the Greek Kalends. The Municipality are disputing about the falling in of sundry tramway concessions and wondering how much they can squeeze out of English capital invested therein. For the moment nothing more is heard of the Carreras water supply concession to the detriment of the already existing water company. Influence of some sort or another must have been brought to bear to quash that darling project of the President's Secretary, Dr. Brian. The Montevideo Water Co. must be in an enviable situation and enjoy a good monopoly, no matter how much it may have turned its conduits on to its own stock. Speaking of water supply, I see that the Pierce Artesian Well Co. has advertised that within a month it will close its business in Montevideo. This Company has made many wells here for different fabricas at a cost which does not amount to the sum which they would have paid for a couple of years' supply of the 'Aguas Corrientes.' The Manager of the Pierce Co. has told me that he is closing the agency in Montevideo in order to fill important contracts in Argentina and Chile as the small amount of business done here during the present rainy season is not sufficient to warrant the Company maintaining an agency. This news will doubtless please the stockholders of the Montevideo Water Co., as the wells made by the Pierce Co. must have diminished their revenue by many thousand pesos.

Much favorable comment has been excited by the action of the Admiral of the North American squadron in furnishing the band of the flagship Newark to play at the Sports, or Gymhana, or whatever one may call them. If all the functionaries concerned in the arrangement of the Venezuela disagreement, possessed the "suaviter in modo fortiter in re" of Admiral Norton, we should hear less of the "big Injun" war talk from both sides of the Atlantic.

Our Government having long ago secured its war credit votes from Congress looks with comparative calm on the belligerent telegrams lately published in the Argentine press. It feels able to sing "We've got the ships, (?) we've got the men, (?) we've got the money too. (?)" The last clause being the most essential for those interested. I see that the local press qualifies as a scandalous job the order for three steam cannon-launches given to Guillermo Harley and Co. without recourse to the legal requirement of public bids for construction of same. It is much ado about nothing, as the number of firms in Montevideo capable of undertaking such work is very limited and they all "s'entendent comme larrons en foire;" calling for bids would have been a farce. The price is $79,000 payable out of funds for military supplies, voted by Congress. There is to be one light draught vessel for river service, 2 deeper draught for coast service—all of wood and each to have search light, mitrailleuse and one modern gun, The Government price ought to leave a good margin for profit.

Anglomaniacs are still to be found in many climes. I used to know a Neapolitan Prince, as dark as a man could well be without a touch of the tar-brush, whose friends, to put him in good humour when they wished to borrow money, used to tell him that some passing stranger at the Club had taken him for an Englishman. All he wore and used came straight from London. In New York there is a class of empty-headed dudes who are delighted at being taken for Englishmen. Whenever it happens, they are careful not to dispel the error. Occasionally one hears of a case of the opposite mania. An amusing instance of this happened here the other day. An American had some row with a native in the street, in the course of which the native said "Go to Hades, you Englishman of filth." (Our Spanish readers can easily supply the native equivalents employed). Thereupon our Yankee knocked him down. Here the vigilante appeared on the scene and took both of them to the police station. The native first told his side of the story. The Commissary asked the Yankee "Why did you strike him when he had not offered to touch you?" In justification the Yankee repeated the offensive phrase used by his opponent, adding "I did not mind his calling me filthy, or telling me to go to Hades, but when he called me an Englishman, you understand, I could not put up with that." A broad smile spread over the faces of all present, including the battered native, and all hands adjourned to a neighbouring café to drink to the Monroe doctrine.

MR. MULHALL'S APPOINTMENT.

We return our best thanks to our esteemed evening colleague Diario, for the following notice of our brother-editor's appointment: British Agricultural Commission:—It has been justly observed that a powerful River Plate contingent figures in the British Agricultural Commission. Foremost is our friend Mr. Michael G. Mulhall, worthy brother of our venerable colleague of the STANDARD. Don Miguel is the helm in his agricultural boat, and it is said that the Commission will be entirely guided by his report. Next comes Mr. Little, brother-in law of our friend Don Tomas Kincaid, and manager of Lord Jersey's estates in Staffordshire. We must also mention Mr. Clay, an intimate friend of Mr. Brougham, the well known Argentine cattle exporter.

It is a good sign to see a circle, however small, of River Plate people, for a very simple and logical reason: Argentine wheat and cattle compete with British interests. We do not ask for favours, but for justice. None of Jim Lowther's protection! Fair play gentlemen, fair play!

RAILWAY ITEMS.

Owing to the retirement of Mr. H. Barfield, Mr. P. W. Cook will take provisional charge of the Permanent Way Department of the Southern Railway.

The Governmeni of Entre Rios has asked the Minister of the Interior to be allowed to devote the receipts of the Entre Rios Railways to the construction of the port at Gualeguay.

SPORT.

The greatest boat race of the year, Oxford and Cambridge, is rowed to day on the Thames, from Putney to Mortlake, but another race will take place, which is from London to Buenos Aires. The race is one that interests the entire rowing world, and those wishing to know how it is proceeding have only to call at the offices of the River Plate Telegraph Company. The start will take place about 1 p.m. London time, which is more or less equal to 8.45 a.m. here, and two minutes after the start, the event will be duly noted at the Company's Offices, and they also expecr messages every 5 minutes from different points showing exactly how the struggle is progressing. This is enterprise with a vengeance, and some similar news will come "via Galveston." We will back "via Madeira" for everything.

During the holidays at the end of next week their will be a handicap polo tournament at Hurlingham on the same lines as last year's. Entries to be made individually to the Secretary; the teams being arranged when all have been received.

THEATRES.

The programme at the Comedia is, just now, at about its best. The pieces "La Bicicleta" and "La Praviana" are two of the most laughable that have been produced for some time, and Sra. Garcia and Sres. Ruiz and Tapias are inimitable. To-night, in addition to the foregoing, Sta. Carmen Muñoz will make her debut in "La Segunda Tiple" being supported by Sra. Asensio and Sr. Tapias. From April 1st the performances at this theatre will commence at 8 o'clock.

The "Noche de Moda" at the Circus last night was a successful as ever, and as promised, novelties came to the front. The triple bar performance by Decia and Castaneiras was greatly applauded, and they gave some new and very clever feats. The pantomine "The Windsor Barber" was very comical and served to show the graceful dancing of the sisters Barnes. Frank Brown himself was better than ever, and introduced some new and very funny jokes. To-morrow, two performances as usual.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Gold Eagle came a first-chop cropper yesterday, and the grizzly grin of satisfaction on the muzzles of the Bruins made them look quiet amiable. Optimism ruled the roast, and some people began absolutely to lay odds that the great end-of-the-century fad. Arbitration, will yet settle the Boundary Question. They are oblivious of the great law of nature that man is just as much (or more of) a fighting animal than any other. The arbitrator fixed on in advance on both sides of the Cordillera is the Grandest Old Woman on earth, the Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India. This bears out the opinion of His Holiness Leo the Thirteenth, that if there is fair play and justice to be found on earth, it is in the law courts of Great Britain before those of all other countries. The news from abroad generally was stirring enough, with the exception of the "damnable iteration" (as Joe Surface, we think, says) of the Cuban intelligence, which has become absolutely sickening.

We are indebted to Mr. B. C. Conlan of Belfast for a little book entitled "Nothing Learned, Nothing Forgotten". It refers to the old question of Home Rule and Ireland's wrongs. We learn from it that, while the duty on beer is only 34 per cent, that on whiskey is 700!!! Heavens! What's that terrible crash? A commotion in our cellar! All the empty Buchanan bottles have committed suicide at the bare idea of a 700 per cent duty on whiskey. No wonder.

The latest news from Ashantee is a great discovery of gold there by an Irishman. We learn also that the new British Government has put a stop to the sale of girls at 5s/ each, to be sold to the Johannesburghers at £10; so that gold mine has been shut up for evsr.

The numerous friends of Dr. and Mrs. Hanly will be delighted to learn that letters from them by yesterday's mail report them and all their family in excellent health. They are staying at Pau, where they have placed their sons at school. They say Pau is a bright, amusing place, with almost as much hunting, golfing and "biking" going on as in England. Capt. O'Grady and Mr. Oliver Ashworth were among their guests. During the hot months of the coming summer they intend going to San Sebastian, and, probably, in the winter make a trip to the South of Spain.

We smoked ourself into a seventh heaven yesterday with the new El Mason cigarettes made at the 'fabrica' of Fernandez and Co. 2375 Piedad. The "Masons" will be bought up like hot cakes, as in addition to their being made of the very best tobacco, each packet contains a "historical curiosity."

We call the attention of our musical readers to the reference in another column to the new Irish opera "Shamus O'Brien," which has just been produced in London. We hope Lord Chancellor Thompson and his clever amateur associates will produce this new opera at the San Martin in the coming winter.

Passing along Calle Florida yesterday afternoon we called in at Mr. Samuel Boote's well-known Artistic and Photographic store, and were surprised to see so little trace of the fire there. The place looks quité spic and span, and the display of pictures, frames, camaras and photographic machines was very good and well worth a visit.

We hasten to correct an error which inadvertendly crept into a paragraph in our last issue anent the Damas de Caridad Concert in San Martin, to-night. In the list of those who kindly offered their services for the occasion Miss Ethel Dawson's name was unfortunately admitted. We offer a most profound and general apology, both to the Damas and the young lady herself.

The news from Chile last night took the gilding off the gingerbread. The Keynote there now is that the new Boundary arrangement proposed by Chile is merely another device to gain time and that it will succeed in this. Nobody believes in a definite arrangement. The panic about Falb's predicted earthquake to-morrow has assumed tremendous proportions. Every train leaving Santiago and Valparaiso is packed like a sardine box with terrified citizens.

The outrage at Chacabuco on Don Carlos Torcuato de Alvear, candidate of the National Party for Provincial Senator, has created a tremendous pow-wow in political circles. His estancia was attacked at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and he was wounded, and the quinta of Mr. Alfred Demarchi, President of the Radical Committee, was also attacked. Ex-President Pellegrini has sailed in, and is using all his great influence to have the criminals (who are known) arrested and punished.

We are forced by pressure on our space to hold over the conclusion of the wonderful Corrientes story.

The driver of a tram-tory yesterday fell under its wheels and was killed on the spot.

We heard yesterday on the best authority that 200 Chilian families settled in Neuquen have left for Chile, with all their cattle and belongings and are waiting in one of the Passes till the Santiago Government selects the land it has promised to give them in their own country.

In a few days, Prince George's Hall will be in the hands of ladies, carpenters, painters and decorators. The interior of the building will be entirely transformed, and visitors to the Scotch Church Bazaar, which will be inaugurated on April 14th will be somewhat surprised at the sight. This bazaar will undoubtedly be one of the greatest that has been held here. Everything is proceeding most favorably, and the Committee are most energetic. There will be about twenty stalls filled with the choicest articles, most of which have come from England and through the kindness of the Government been admitted free of all duty. Things will be very cheap in consequence, and sales are expected to be brisk.

The health of the Belgrano emigrés on Martin Garcia is excellent. In fact though an odd case is reported in the roads, yellow fever is no longer to be feared as a possible scourge. The hulk anchored in the Darsena with 400 naval recruits on board is reported to be in such state that it shames description. Eight cases of scarlatina have occurred on board and the whole 400 men are to be landed and sheltered in tents on the river-bank while their shambles are being disinfected. Plain speaking is best when the welfare of our navy is concerned.

A Cabinet Council of great importance is to be held to-day for the sole purpose of discussing the Chilian terms for the settlement of the frontier-difficulties, recently forwarded by Dr. Quirno Costa.

Mrs. Thornton's dance on Thursday night was one of the most fashionable events of the season. The quinta was beautifully illuminated, all the saloons thrown open, and the house taxed to its utmost to accommodate all the guests. The Corps Diplomatique was in full force. The charming Miss Baring, daughter of our esteemed Minister in Montevideo, was the guest of the evening, the ball being given on the occasion of her departure from Buenos Aires, where she has been on a visit at Mrs. Thursby's. She left last night for Montevideo. Dancing was kept up until the wee hours. The orchestra was first class and the supper superb.

To-night there will be a general hegira for Mar del Plata, Necochea, Curumalan and Cosquin. A very gay English party leaves for Curumalan to pass Holy Week under our famed umbrella in the mountains. We wish them all a pleasant time of it, and hope that some of our friends will act the part of Hon. Sec., and send us some refreshing letters.

One of the saddest things on record was the suicide of the great New York banker which we announced in our last. The following respecting the unfortunate victim may interest many of our American readers:—"Mr. Ladenburg was born at Frankfort-on-the-Main forty-two years ago. His father, Emil Ladenburg, was a retired banker, one of the richest citizens there. After receiving a university education, young Ladenburg came to this country in 1870 on a visit. He was so well pleased here that he decided to remain. He entered into business, becoming a partner in the firm of which, at his death, he was senior member, and which had been established in 1876 by Thalman and Limburger, now the surviving active partners. The house of Hans and George Bleichroder, and Julius Schwabach of Berlin, which Ladenburg, Thalman represent here, and Company and which represent them abroad, are also special partners in the American concern, whose offices are at 46 Wall Street. On the Street it is said that Prince Bismarck is interested in the house of Bleichroder. At the time of the organization of the Morgan syndicate it was understood that Bleichroeder and the Deutsche Bank would each enter for a subscription, and that Bleichroeder would subscribe fifteen million dollars and the firm twenty-five million dols., in all $40,000,000. When the Brooklyn Elevated Railroad was organized, it was the funds of this house that floated that enterprise. The firm was interested in the projection of the scheme from its beginning. In the East River Bridge enterprise Mr. Ladenburg's house has taken a leading part."

When will the Argentine "jeunesse dorée" attain the sartorial triumphs achieved by Mr. Oliver H. P. Belmont, who has recently married Mrs. Vanderbilt, the mother-in-law of the Duke of Marlborough? He is about forty, a smallish man, with a choleric complexion, and the nervous, quick movements which Rudyard Kipling thinks are so typical of Americans. His hobby is horses, and he owns and drives several coaches. As a coachman he dresses in the full regalia of the British hunting squire of thirty years ago, with pearl-coloured, bell-crowned hat, scarlet waistcoat, green coat with brass buttons, high black stock, and lilies of the valley in his buttonhole.

Cuba's struggle for independence has developed a little by-play, the facts of which are well known to the fashionable world in Paris. On the Boulevard Malesherbes, in a beautifully furnished entresol, resides a lady who will make it warm for the Spanish Royal family, unless the powers that be in Iberia do what she considers their duty. This lady was the "chére amie" of the late Alfonso XII., to whom she bore three children—all three the living image of their royal sire. Two of them are invalids. The late King of Spain was very fond of this lady, gave her a great deal of money, and openly acknowledged the parentage of her children. He always intended to provide for them; informed Count Morphy and the Duke of Sesto of this intention. But although for a long time more or less ailing, the King died somewhat suddenly, too suddenly, in fact, to make legal provision for the "faux menage." Notwithstanding this, however, for a long time, money has been sent to the Boulevard Malesherbes, but now, it appears, that for some time past no supplies have been forthcoming, and the result is that certain young Bourbons de la main gauche have been almost without the necessaries of life. The mother has at last decided to stand this neglect no longer, and has written to the persons who would suffer the most in the event of a scandal, that if adequate provision is not at once made for her and her children, the half-brothers of the present king, as she terms them—she will cause trouble. By the way, the Count Morphy above mentioned is a cousin of Mr. Morphy, the Bolsa broker and Astec scholar.

The mails by the French steamer Portugal were delivered early yesterday, and fairly enveloped us up to our chin. Never have our good friends Messrs. Galli Bros so overwhelmed us with late English papers to 5th inst., We have on our Table. Short Stories, Truth, Tit-Bits, Forget-me-not, Snap Shots, Illustrated Bits, Pick me up, Society, Penny, Illustrated, Sketch, etc., etc. We return our best thanks, and hope to get through every line of the whole lot during Holy Week.

There is a musical celebrity from the bank of the beautiful Blue Danube in our midst, Professor Johann Stahrl, Zither Player to his Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Austria. To show the Buenos Aires Press what he can do on the pet instrument of our old friend Mr. Homberger, the Professar gives a concert to-night in Aue's Keller in Calle Piedad (upstairs) exclusively for the passengers in the Editorial Bus.

We predicted when that villain Tremblié was sentenced to death three weeks ago that he would yet cheat the hangman, or rather the guillotine, and yesterday's telegrams show that he has got a new lease of life, with all the chances of another trial and the fresh revelations in the letters recently sent to him from this city.

As was to be expected, Lord Salisbury intends to ask Parliament for allowances for the Duke of York and his sisters. The last advance in pocket money given to their father was on condition that the State was not to be asked to provide for his children; but times have changed; the Heir Apparent's debts are not diminishing, and Lord Salisbury's great majority in Parliament ensures the success of the proposal.

Dr. Estanislao Zeballos paid a visit to the disenchanted capital of the Queen Province on Wednesday last, and visited all the public buildings, his cicerone being Mr. Carlos Olivera. Most strange to say, it was his first visit to La Plata.

The Dia of La Plata says that the burst-up a large live-stock exporting firm is on the cards. We hope matters will be fixed of up. The trade is too young and promising to have failures in it as yet, and we hope the firm in question will weather the storm and steer safely through its difficulties.

Our French colleagues here are "subiendo de tono" about Egypt, and one of the warns President Faure that if he does not throw himself across the British Lion's path, he will be given the same choice as his illustrious predecessor the late Marshal McMahon—"Se soumettre on se demettre". After all, President Faure shows himself to be the most sensible man in France in opposing a rupture with England about Egypt, or about anything else whatsoever. Napoleon the Third was of the same wise opinion, and acted on it, to the great benefit of both France and England.

The last queer news about the Dongola expedition is that the Sultan of Turkey is the Simon Pure who has set the dervishes going, as he and Osman Digna are as thick as two thieves and keep up a constant correspondence. The Unspeakable's extreme astuteness has over-reached itself and played into John Bull's hands, instead of checkmating him, as was intended. What a game diplomacy is.

We feel very sincere pleasure in announcing to the numerous friends and patients of Dr. Colbourne that he has returned from his sojourn in the camp in the very best of health, and has resumed practice at his residence 648 Calle Maipu.

Ultimo Testimonio recibido

Señores Agar, Cross y Cia., Buenos Aires
Muy Señores mios

Con haber introducido en esta colonia su máquina reformada MacCormick y á mas que en el dia de la fecha para que sea mas completa con la nueva aplicación á la misma máquina del Cutter Bar Frames, he recibido un perjuicio de regular consideracion y un beneficio que supera pero grandemente al perjuicio. Asi se lo manifesté verbalmente á su representante Sr. Jorge Winter. El perjuicio es que tengo muchas máquinas, segadoras de alfalfa y no sé que haré de ellas porque mis chacareros no quieren mas que MacCormick, y el beneficio es que teniendo alfalfares "sembrados espresamente con muchos graminios" todavia no habia encontrado máquina las cortara tan perfectamente como estas. Como en el año proximo cortaré mas de 2000 hectareas de alfalfa semilla y es alli donde se ven las buenas máquinas, les pediré algunas mas, segun venga el corte semilla, este año necesitaré dos. En un concurso, quisiera ver como se puede probar que haya maquina que supere á esta.

FIRST RING 218.00%
SECOND RING..... 218.50%

The gold price dipped again very decidedly to-day, though, strange to say, the bears are even yet over sanguine about further development in this line. There is a good deal of give-and, take about the business; both sides are covering, and it looks as if the settlement will find the market quite liquidated, unless something fresh and startling crops up to galvanize the speculation and knock the liquidation all to pieces again. The market seems to consider the Chilian difficulty out of count for the time; at least everything is on a satisfactory footing and pointing that way, but they speak of bad news from Europe at the ring, observing a most judicious silence as to its purport, whilst another rumour going the rounds was that the Bear King had sold to a private bank a million gold dollars for end of year; not the slightest credence, to say nothing of importance, was attached to either one or other, and as exchange has not broken away again, the markot might be characterized as quiet with a weakish tendency. Neither party, we imagine, will care about pushing matters much till after the liquidation. Then the campaign will be started afresh, the speculation revived, and the whole market drawn again into the vortex of this finaneial struggle. At present both sides are taking a preparatory breather.

The business in gold at the first hour ran over the round million and at weakening rates, about a quarter of the total changing hands for cash, opening at 319, falling to 317.50, and closing at 318. For end of month pretty much the same rate ruled as for cash, and a large business was done, which was also the case for April as regards volume—premonitory signs of the liquidation, the contango for April keeping very stiff at 4 to 4 ½ points. We hear that in spite of the scarcity of paper a good deal is doing in passing for April, which leaves a fine profit, 4 points clear, or say about 15¾ per annum. A lot of gold sold in "descubierto" for April at high rates was covered to-day. For end of May there was little disposition to operate and the price fell from 328 to 325.50. Stocks as usual slack.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the first ring to-day:—

Circulars were handed round to-day announcing that the Transatlantic Fire Insurance Company has named another representative here, Mr. T. Keppel, who, with Mr. Steinhans, holds full powers from the Company. Their offices are at San Martin 56.

We see by Brazilian advices there is a big speculation for a fall in exchange going on, matters being pushed to such extremity that yesterday a report was spread of a twin revelution started in Bahia and Minas. Speculators, whatever their clime, or colour in politics, do not stand on the stiffest of ceremony. The British Bank, it is reported, has stemmed the current of the fall.

Dr. Udaondo has at last found a bookkeeper, Dr. Horace Ferrari, who has done excellent work in the Provincial Land Office, has consented to try his hand now in the Province's Finances, and though he has sorry material to cut from, his administrative ability should be able to put some kind of order in chaos. Those two broken reeds, the Provincial Bank and Mortgage Bank, alone want a lot of straightening, crease-smoothing and propping up, until the top-hamper can be taken off and some means of consigoing them quietly to the financial undertaker can be arrived at. Dr. Ferrari is new to the business, but this is all in his favor.

The balance-sheet of the South American Bank Note Company was issued to-day for year ended November the 30th 1895, the business having left a total profit of $79,324, which after usual deductions for board, managing directors, founders, reserve etc. leaves a balance of $53,236, or say 4% dividend for shareholders, and $2,338 carried to new account. The Company owes the National Mortgage Bank $92,923 and to holders of its obligations or debentures $574·000, the interest and amortization of both these amounts having been punctually attended to. These are evident signs of good management, and the business of the establishment is increasing most satisfactorily.

The carbuncle is going to prove a far more serious business than was supposed. The disease made its appearance at Bavio, and the authorities moved so briskly, taking precautions to isolate and avert contagion, that when no fresh cases were reported it was thought that the pest had been stamped out. Probably this led to some fatal laxity, as yesterday it was announced raging in Las Heras, and to-day the advices are that it has re-appeared in Bavio, an ox which was allowed to drink out of a pond admittedly supposed to be tainted, dying off in a few hours. This is what a relaxation of vigilance has brought about, and it would seem as if the Provincial authorities had not an over-clear conception of the gravity of the affair and the awful ravages it may, and probably will, cause in the herds if the estancieros are not alive enough to their own interests to keep the plague at arm's length. If it once gets a foothold it will turn out not only an epidemic but may prove endemic; it will be almost impossible to handle from the immense herds grazed on the estancias; instead of isolating a chacra or an estancia whole districts or partidos will have to be quarantined, and there is one thing very certain, that unless the matter is faced boldly and seriously we shall have the animals rotting away outside, dying off like flies—too fast even to allow time for flaying. It is a very ugly business, indeed, and there is no hoping for the best about it either.

The cables from Deptford to-day announced steers selling at 22 to 28d and wethers 28 to 32d, all per 8 lbs. We see by London advices that the English butchers have had a scare, thniking that they had found pleuro-pneumonia in some Argentine steers, but it turns out to be "enteque" a disease unknown in England and they have written for particulars. Dr. Even says that "enteque" is peculiar to cattle on the coast here and culminates in asthma and anœmia, but is not dangerous.

The balance sheet of the "America" Insurance Co. was handed round to-day and as with the Estrella we see this business is so ably and prudently managed that the shareholdere get a splendid dividend, 20%. The company's business shews a solid increase over that of previous year the premiums being as follows:—

	1894-5	1895-6
Fire Section.....	236,211	265,883
Marine "	94,500	109,230

The cash on hand and in deposit stands at about $305,000. This shews the very prosperous state of the business and again we compliment the board of directors and Mrs. Moreno on their admirable management and the shareholders on their fine dividend.

There seems to be something misty about the working of the Cuñapiru mines. The engineer who had them formerly in hand has just been found guilty by the French Courts of fraudulently applying the proceeds of the mine to gambling operations in the Bolsa of Montevideo, and in the course of the trial it leaked out that an Oriental Deputy was mixed up in the business. Mr. Austchizki, the engineer above referred to, got 13 months. A new company has been formed with double the capital to reopen the mines and push them ahead.

We see that the La Plata Government is applying a brand new broom to the concessions of sites for "industrias" in the Silver City. Few of the concessionaires have complied with the clauses of the contracts, and stand a very reasonable chance, therefore, of being asked to retire, as a committee has been named to probe into all these morose concessions and report to the Government. The thread looks like parting this time.

In spite of the flourish of trumpets the sugar ring is not quite fixed off yet. A Santiago miller urges prior arrangements and will not sign in spite of the pressure brought to bear. The Refineria Argentina has demands for 20,000 bags, which it refuses to consider pending arrangement of the syndicate.

A party professing to be well up in what is going on both here and outside calculates 40,000 tons of wool still on hand.

The London Times of 27th February estimates the Argentine wheat crop this season at 65% of last season, which will only leave 400,000 tons available for export in round figures.

We see a table published by the National Mortgage Bank, that the service of the loans at the various agencies is very satisfactory. The following is a summary:

Mortgages made..	$ 49,149,850
" in arrears..	" 5,561,341
Service of 1895....	" 4,813,466
Collected during 1895	" 3,804,330

About 11% of the bank's clients outside are still in arrears, but the proportion is steadily sinking.

The market may be summed up as supremely dull, very little doing and a general desire to hold off till the liquidation is over and holidays passed. The general impression also seems to favour this course. The Chilian question is no longer even discussed; it has been relegated to a back-place. The yellow fever scare is put on the same footing, and in fact with all the bullish doubt factors at rest there is no leverage power, if there be the wish, to push the market. The bears are in possession, but they also seem short of ammunition, and gold prices seem likely now to oscillate at more or less the actual quotations. A very shrewd broker who professes to have taken the pulse of the market opines that under the apparent weakness there is a very solid sub-stratum, which will prevent much leakage. Business at the second hour was quiet to extreme. The ready rate closed at 318.50, but there were sellers at this rate and buyers at 318. The "pase" for April rather stiffened, though there is little disposition to operate. Stocks as usual dull.

The following is a summary of the operations effected to-day at the second ring:—

The Thames mails were landed rather late to-day, over 100 bags, and her passengers all went into quarantine.

Mr. Green reports the Magdalena, the direct steamer in May next, filling up rapidly. She is a fine fast steamer and will probably make a record trip, so that passengers will have a most agreeable run home.

With regard to the million gold dollars which a private bank and a big Bruin are supposed to be negotiating, late in the day it leaked out that the bank is the British of South America, and the operator the firm of Tornquist, which, taking time by the forelock, sells the establishment in question the gold on foot of the coming sugar output. The price is not stated, nor is the news guaranteed by affidavit.

We see by exchanges arrived per French packet that Mr. Brühl, the well-known Santa Fe Colonization agent has arranged a scheme with the North German Lloyd Steampacket Company that will mean a great spurt in this line. The colonists will all be Germans; each family will get 100 hectares of land and 2.500 marks for preliminary expenses, and there will be altogether some 50,000 hectares settled. The business will run over a year.

The Petroleum Oil Company Ltd. held a meeting of shareholders a few days ago at which it was resolved to sell the whole concern, saving real estate, to Mr. E. T. Bedford for $75,000 gold dollars. Mr. E. B. Hough, on behalf of Mr. Bedford, will now take charge, liquidate the stock and develop it by put ing a large capital into the business. It will be remembered that this concern was first started by Mr. Clark Curtin, who sold out to the company. Mr. Bedford is one of the biggest shareholders in the Standard Oil Company of the United States the biggest enterprise in this line in the world.

It was said to-day that the Minister of War, Chief of the Staff and a whole phalanx of officers visited the Sola Works to-day, to inspect the rolling stock with a view to ganging transport facilities. This is probably in connection with the Curamalan concentration.

Messrs. E. Estarlasi and R. Castrucci have petitioned the Finance Minister for permission to work a bed of arcillaceous earth on the beach at Belgrano, in the manufacture of bricks. "baldosas" etc.

Mr. A. Munro has petitioned Government to be allowed to purchase the Public Land bordering on the Salt Beds which he is working on the Valdez Peninsula.

The Inspector of live-stock at La Plata has represented to the Finance Minister that his staff of assistants must be increased, to enable him to attend properly to the increasing trade there.

Mr. A. Anstate has sent to the Minister of the Interior a propesal for the sanification of the water in the Madero Port.

The Engineers Department has asked the Minister of the Interior for the cash required for the works on the rivers San Pedro, Ledesma and San Lorenzo.

The rumours current since the 24th of the collapse of one of our principal live-stock exporting firms, were to-day so accentuated as to assume the character of certainty. The liabilities are placed at so high a figure that we hardly venture to name it. From October to the end of the past year the losses ran to only 4 figures but since the 1st January owing to the steady fall in the Deptford market every day necessarily caused a still greater deficit. Another firm is also spoken of and in fact the entire trade may be said to have utterly collapsed owing to the perfectly funereal prices current in England. Our colleague El Diario published to-day a telegram announcing price of beef in Deptford to be 1/10d to 2/4d the stone! In other words a 650 kilos bullock giving 90 stone dead meat at 2/- per stone is worth £9. The expenses even with a £3 freight must be £7 leaving a net balance of £2 or say $32 paper—certainly not an encouraging price for shippers, wethers giving 60 kilos live or 8 stone dead weight in like manner would leave a net balance of say 2/ each! Such phenomenal prices are more than enough to amply account for the difficulties in which our unfortunate shippers are floundering. This is the dark side of the picture. It must, however, be borne in mind that the present rate of 2/ per stone, can hardly fall lower and is as abnormal as was 3/10 in the halcyon season of 1894-5. Those who may resolve on sending their stock home to-day instead of keeping them eating their heads off all the winter, may fairly look for a vast improvement 6 weeks hence when their animals would come on the market. The American shippers are flooding the English market but they also are suffering enormous losses; consequently as their charters become filled the trade will fall off, producing an improvement all round both for the few who may continue to ship from the States and for those who may have been bold enough to ship from here. In short we may fairly hope that the worst is past and that though many may have become victimized—or perhaps because they have so suffered—the business next spring may revive on sounder and therefore, more permanent bases.

SALES AND AUCTIONS.

Things were quiet at the marts in general to-day, all attempts in this line being monopolized by the great sale of camp and stock at Tattersall's. Messrs Ramon Bravo and Co sold to-day the following properties: Family house in Calle Rivadavia No. 1056, 14.35 metres by 14.97 for $48,000, and another on May Avenue beside it 14.85 by 24.81 metres for $55,000. The upset price of the first was $30,880, and of the second $32,586. Dr. F. R. Burgos bought both properties.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

The spurt in wheat made buyers look squeamish this morning. Exporters entered the markets with the full conviction of making large transactions, but finding themselves met with with such high toned prices, they at once receded, leaving the field clear for the millers, who, notwithstanding the high prices asked, bought freely. The sudden and violent fluctuations in our markets are quite enough to baffle any outsider; if one does not happen to be in the general run, he will be fairly startled to see produce drop one day and rise the next. Being puzzled, he refers to his friends, who refer him to the principal consignatarios; with all this he gets no satisfaction, as the latter gentlemen are very reticent in their opinions.

To-day we find the wheat markets very firm, what's at the bottom of this sudden change is beyond our grasp. For the last month, everybody has followed the course of wheat rates, and it strikes one as peculiar that in the space of four days this grain should have taken such a spurt. The current prices in the Once ran as far as 8.60, but buyers fought shy and only offered 8.40, some that were pushed went as far as 8.50, but for all this, farmers held back and stuck firm to their prices. To comment on the situation is useless, as the present tug of war is bound to last for some time, farmers make a great mistake in trying to drive prices too high, as we have so many competing markets that one is obliged to follow the general run and not try to stem the market.

At a late hour we heard that Messrs. Luciano Moleres and Co. sold 3220 bags of linseed at 10.20. The other operations were of insignificance.

Owing to the bad news from Antwerp yesterday little or nothing was done in the wool markets this morning. The total amount sold did not pass 280,000 kilos, prices were as usual. French artistas ruled the day; it is strange that with a low gold market and low freights there is not more competition. The Germans are operating on a very small scale, in fact their competition waxes low before that of the French, who, notwithstanding the fall in Antwerp and Roubaix still continue to buy in their old brisk style. Several large parcels have arrived from the Colorado and Patagones, but as the stock of fine qualities is so large there is very little attention paid to these wools.

A leading consignatario informed us this morning that there are still 80,000 bales for sale. We hope he is mistaken, as the season is drawing rapidly to a close and one already notices a falling-off, both in interest as well as in competition.

In Mr. A. Ellerman's report, we find the following comments on River Plate wool:

"There has been a regular demand for available lots of unwashed wool, but business was to a moderate extent, embracing only 399 bales from Buenos Aires and Montevideo, as thus far, the stock offered but a poor selection of new-clip wool. About 3,500 bales have just come in, and further supplies are soon expected. The term market, during the fortnight, ruled steady, with an improving tendency, so that two days ago prices for tops were about 10 centimes higher than a fortnight ago. Since then the tone has become more quiet, and, with contracts giving a total of 2,500,000 kilos tops and 825 bales unwashed wool.

"Wheat of very satisfactory quality continues to arrive from all districts of Santa Fé and Rosario, but such a large part of the stocks in Santa Fé has to be set aside as irrevocably damaged, that persistent rumours of deficiency in export surplus as compared with last year are current. The quality of linseed arriving is most unsatisfactory, although quantity is considerably larger than last year. With hot weather, and occasional heavy rains, the growing maize crop promises to be exceptionally large and of fine quality, and meanwhile, although there is no diminution of supply of the old crop, really good quality is scarce.

The following was sold this morning in the Markets:—

The business this morning was not as steady as could be desired. The party for the fall seems to be stronger than the other, this causes a slack in all affairs, as sellers refuse to accept the offers of the exporters. Should this continue, a perfect stagnation is bound to come over the cereal markets. Operations here should more or less follow the course of European rates, but taking last month's and this one's transactions, one notices that the two markets do notagree.

Brazilian exporters picked up 5000 bags of wheat barletta at 8.40. The consumo paid for superior qualities 8.40 and for good from 7.90 to 8.00. There is a large stock of wheat on hand, and we hear that several consignatarios are complaining at the low prices offered by buyers. They can now console themslves, as the market rates are pretty near 9 dollars; if this spurt continues, all parcels will find buyers

Yellow maize was in demand this morning. Exporters paid from 2.90 to 3.10 in the Once and in the Riachuelo from 3.10 to 2.38. In the Darsena a parcel of 2000 tons was bought at 3.50. Morocho maize is selling well but at rather slack prices, 1200 tons were sold in the Boca at 2.80.

Although the demand for linseed has increased there is still a certain stiffness in the prices, exporters refuse to extend their rates and farmers refuse to lower their own. The current rates in the Once were 9 and 9.90, a superior parcel of 3,000 bags fetched in the same market 10.50. It is some time since we have had linseed selling at this price.

Our wools stand as follows in Antwerp:

1st. of February.....	5,802 bales
Just arrived.....	12,082 "
Sold privately and by auction.....	3,704 "
On route.....	8,473 "
Present stock.....	5,707 "

The rising tendency observed during January has been well confirmed in the prices paid in the auctions of the 31st and 6th February. The sales at these auctions show a rise of 10% on those of October past. The demand has been stiff, but operations have been restricted owing to the bad condition of some of the parcels. The expected arrivals will evidently give a great spurt to the present animation.

An exchange gives us the following cutting on the export of cattle from Canada to England. It is quite evident that there are several parties in England opposed to this new Canadian trade. One can well understand this, as there is a large amount of English capital invested in the Argentine cattle trade. The opposition to this new start is plainly visible in the following:—

"The Bill before the House of Commons, introduced by the President of the Board of Agriculture, with the object of prohibiting the importation of live cattle into the United Kingdom except for slaughter, is to be opposed by the Members for Forfarshire, Perthshire, Dundee, and Norfolk. In view, however, of the fact that it has the support of the great agricultural societies, the opposition in question is not likely to prevent the passage of the Bill, and the general feeling is that it will become law. Lord Burghelere, better known as Mr. Herbert Gardner, the President of the Board of Agriculture in the last Admistration, is opposed to the measure, which in effect makes permanent the state of things he instituted temporrily. The theory is that, under the existing legislation, if a country can show that it is free from disease, the Board of Agriculture has no power to prevent the importation of cattle from it. It will be interesting to know what the Canadians think of this theory. The Board of Agriculture ought really to be asked to state exactly what information is required to convince them that a country has a clean bill of health. Everything possible has been done to convince any reasonable being that pleuro-pneumonia has never obtained a foothold in Canada, but still the entry of Canadian cattle into the United Kingdom is not permitted. The only satisfaction about the measure is that it is the thin end of the wedge in regard to protection, and may lead to preferential trade in some form or another; but it is a pity that the measure is not called by its proper name."
